COMMISSIONER NOYES DINES COUNTY REPRESENTATIVES

We have followed our practice of the county coperty in complete repair. The tails and county home are in absolutely refert complition and county to the coun rfect condition, and we see no probthese institutions in the near future, During the past year new heating ants have been installed in the New London fall and the county home. The seating system in the Norwich fall has also been thoroughly overhauled and greatly improved. These expenditures have been quite large and of an extraordinary nature.

The court house at New London will oon call for some repairs and a coat f paint. This was deferred last year owing to the uncertainty surrounding the court house question in that city. The County Home.

The county home is at the present time filled to the limit of its capacity. The number of inmates in the home has practically doubled during the past decade. There are now ninety-five children housed there, and with taken up and settled, either by further addition to the present structure or by the eraction of a building adequate for future as well as for present needs. The possibility of a fire in the county home has always been a source county home has always been a source of uneasiness to the commissioners, it being a wooden building and considerably removed from the center of population. We believe that that danger has now been reduced to a minimum. Since the introduction of electric lights, three years since, there have been no matches allowed in any part of the house except the kitchen, and there they are under lock and key. We have fire extinguishers in the house and a private fire alarm box also

The matron and her assistants are capable and conscientious women, decoly interested in their work and successful in meeting the large responsibilities involved in the care of so many small children. No small amount of credit is due to Mrs. Milchell, the secretary of our board of visitors, for the interest she has taken in the home. To her watchful care and deen interest in the county home work is largely due our state-wide rep-

a creditable structure and well adapted for the purposes for which it was designed. Its cost to the county does not show on our report, as it is being built by a commission formed under the net, with power to borow money in the name of the county for its construction. It is not yet turned over to the county. This, however, will soon be done. As soon as the building is completed it will be necessary for the county to equip the library with suitable fixtures and book racks and to furnish the court room and rooms used in connection with it.

A vote was passed authorizing improvements in the two jails and giving the commissioners authority to borrow the amount necessary, the total cost of the improvements, including interest, including interest, including interest, the interest of the improvements in this amount the improvements, including interestating $16,714.04. Of this amount being $16,714.04. Of this amount $567.42 was paid from funds in the county treasury and $16,146.69 was raised by a note at the Mariners' Sav-ings bank of New London, where it is

We are proud of the way in which our jails are administered. They are managed by capable, careful, econom-ical and humane men. The sheriff certainly made no mistake when he appointed his present deputy jailers. The new cell block in the Norwich The new cell block in the Norwich jall has been pronounced by parties who have inspected it as the best in New England. It is certainly all that can be desired. We do not see where it can be improved. It adds thirty-six cells to the capacity of the fall and will probably be adequate for all purposes for many years. This building, which is now nearly eighty years old is thoroughly up-to-date in every particular and we are ho longer under the necessity of offering apologies for any of our county institutions.

No one greatned when this important institution was established, only a few years ago, that such a large aggregate of neglected and dependent children could be found within the limits of our county who needed the shelter of such a home. There are today a total of two hundred and reactive all whildran directly under its twenty-six children directly under its control and for which the county is responsible. The county home buildling, which was originally a dwelling bouse, has been enlarged three times. It is of rambling construction and while the commissioners feel the necessity of additional accommodations, they are not prepared to recommend a further enlargement of this building. further enlargement of this building They feel that if the necessity arises it would be better for the present to board a few children in other homes until the expenditures to which the county is now committed are out of the way. The question can then be taken to and settled either by further

We have fire extinguishers in the house and a private fire alarm box also installed there. It is the intention of the commissioners to place a fire escape on the building at a very early date. We consider this to be necessary under the present crowded conditions existing there, as we have had to finish off part of the attic for use as a dormitory, and feel that every safeguard should be taken in the interest of the children.
